Synthesis of comments.draft.v2.elfcomments.doc

Hi Karen,

Specific comments are included in track changes with specific recommendations for different text and comment bubbles.

Comments that apply to the whole document:

Eliminate repeated sentences, words, and phrases.

I would choose the present tense to discuss comments not the past tense.

Footnote or endnote the letters from which quotes are taken.

If possible, Bruce and Carolyn should read their sections to see if they seem consistent with the comments they read on their sections (I'm assuming they've read the comments on their sections). You'll be reading it and can do that on CEC's. I did that with Ammonia & pesticides, not wetlands (yet).

That must have been a hard task -- I struggled to maintain my complete attention to it just on the review!
